Mastercam Italia Completes Strategic Acquisition of Cadline

Strengthening Mastercam's Italian Market Presence and Expanding National Customer Support

ITALY — Mastercam Italia, an affiliate of Mastercam, the world's leading CAD/CAM software provider and part of the Sandvik Group, today announced the successful close of its strategic acquisition of Cadline, a longtime Mastercam channel partner. With the transaction complete, Cadline is now operating as Mastercam Italia, expanding Mastercam's direct presence across the Italian manufacturing market.

This transition brings together Cadline's deep regional expertise with Mastercam's global technology leadership, enabling faster response times, more personalized service, and enhanced customer support for manufacturers throughout Italy.

"This marks an important milestone for Mastercam and for our customers in Italy," said Russ Bukowski, President of Mastercam. "By bringing Cadline fully into the Mastercam organization as Mastercam Italia, we are strengthening our local connections while delivering the full power of Mastercam's global resources. Customers will benefit from closer collaboration, faster technical support, and solutions tailored to their regional manufacturing needs.

The move from a channel partner model to direct operations enables Mastercam Italia to provide accelerated problem resolution, customized training programs, and regional specialists who understand the unique challenges facing Italian manufacturers. The acquisition supports Mastercam's broader growth strategy of combining innovation with targeted acquisitions to enhance customer experience and service delivery.

As part of Sandvik's digital manufacturing portfolio, Mastercam continues to advance connected manufacturing technologies and deliver comprehensive support to customers worldwide, helping manufacturers improve productivity, efficiency, and competitiveness.
